Please add the following new claim:

TECHNOLOGY CENTER 10700

26. (New) A device for delivering a medication, comprising:
- a housing;
 - a container having an outlet, the container received in the housing and containing a fluid product to be dispensed through the outlet;
 - a piston carried in the container;
 - a drive for moving the piston; and
 - a valve connected to the outlet, wherein the valve prevents unintentional draining of the fluid product from the container.
